LET'S GO!

It's always nice to have something to look forward to. Now that the weather is warming up, have your child plan an outing for your family. It doesn't have to be elaborate—it can be as simple as a picnic at a local park. Here are some questions you can ask to get started:

- Where are you going?
- How will you get there? Get or print a map and trace your route. Mark any stops along the way.
- When will you go?
- Is there a fee? Start a savings jar.
- What will you wear? Plan for the weather and your activities.
- What will you bring? Food? Toys? Books? A notebook and something to write or draw with?

Remember to be flexible, because sometimes the best plans need a bit of adjusting. Most of all, enjoy your time and adventures together!
